CHAMBER OF COMMERCE TO HOLD NIGHT BUSINESS SESSION TO OVERTAKE WORK

At the noon day lunch of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday it was decided to hold a night business session next Tuesday in order to take up some important business matters that are under consideration, and which could not be given the proper attention at the short sessions held in connection with the lunch.

The big dining table was filled to its capacity when President Parker called the session to order yesterday, and while lunch was enjoyed by the gathering, business matters were taken up and disposed of as far as possible.

Rev. A. W. Hall, of the Interstate Association, reported to the Chamber of Commerce that the various organizations proposed to be merged into a Tourist Club had all agreed to the arrangement, and he was now ready to go forward with the work of organizing. The Chamber of Commerce agreed to furnish a place of meeting and to co-operate with the Tourist organization in every manner. During the discussion it was suggested that a permanent resident be made the secretary of the Tourist Club so that their work could be continued here throughout the year. Rev. Hall asked the Chamber of Commerce to nominate both a candidate for secretary and one for a vice president of the Tourist Club. A meeting of the various representatives of the organizations will be held in a few days to call a general meeting to perfect the club.

The committee on lunch for this week was J. J. Johnston, J. W. Pierson and E. M. Hedrick. Mr. F. R. Seymour assisted in serving. The committee announced for next week is as follows: O. R. Bleech, Capt. Crawford and E. Mallory.

Mrs. Foster reported the return home of the St. Cloud films, and was asked to arrange for another show at home before sending the reels northward again.

The advertising committee was discussed, and since some changes had been made it was suggested that the committee reorganize and get ready to do some more real work this spring.

The matter of securing city delivery from the local postoffice was brought up and it was reported that encouraging letters had been received from the department at Washington, stating the conditions that must be met in order to secure this relief at the local office.

Prof. U. P. Davis, principal of the St. Cloud High School, brought before the assembly the matter of providing noon-day lunch for the school children. He gave a report on conditions that makes this work necessary and related what had already been done by the Parent Teacher Association. It was stated that the lunches would be served at an early date, and in order to assist in the matter the Chamber of Commerce voted to contribute $10 each month to help bear the expenses.

Headquarters Popular

It has been noted that the headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce is becoming a popular place for visitors, and it is urged that every one be directed to that office for information. It is the endeavor of the officers and members to compile accurate information and keep same on file at the office. Additions to their references in this line are solicited from anyone who has any matter of general interest to the public and tourist visitors.

A sign of attractive design is being planned so that anyone passing near the office may notice the location.

MEETING OF RED CROSS CHAPTER OCCURS NEXT MONDAY EVENING, 7:30 O'CLOCK

The first regular meeting of the year of the St. Cloud Chapter American Red Cross, will be held in the Chamber of Commerce room on New York avenue, Monday evening, February 5.

When the local chapter was reorganized after the roll call a year ago held in November, the election of officers and adoption of a plan of work occurring in December, no regular meeting date was chosen because it was necessary to await results from the Atlanta headquarters in complying with the wishes of the local chapter to take up active work in 1923. Having decided to employ a resident nurse, headquarters was notified and it was only two weeks ago that the nurse was secured and the work undertaken under the direction of the nursing committee of eleven appointed by Chairman Parker.

At a recent meeting of this committee the matter of regular meetings being discussed it was decided to call the first regular meeting on February 5, with the intention of holding meetings of the chapter once a month.

The committee in charge have outlined the work for the nurse in the city, and this has been going forward with increasing interest each day. Mrs. L. H. Adams, who was sent to fill the place by the division headquarters has been kept busy since the day of her arrival, and is meeting with hearty cooperation from all the people. She has had experience with work in Florida before, and during the war was in government work in the mountainous sections of Tennessee. She is thoroughly capable of handle the work to be done here, and is anxious to meet all the members of the chapter at the meeting next Monday.

It is urged that all members be present.

REV. SHARPE APPRECIATES CO-OPERATION RECEIVED

Rev. J. M. Sharpe called at the Tribune office today to express his appreciation for the hearty co-operation received from the people of St. Cloud in the revival services, which came to a close last Sunday. He desires to thank all who assisted in every way in making the meetings a success.

All the funds secured in St. Cloud were used to help pay for the new gospel tent which has been purchased by Rev. Sharpe, and the amount lacked only $150 covering the cost of a tent that will seat 1,000 people. The new tent will be used for the first time in Tampa, where Rev. Sharpe was called by telegram, and where he will conduct a revival beginning on February 11th.

Rev. and Mrs. Sharpe made many friends while conducting their services here who will wish them success in future meetings.

ODD FELLOWS TO HOLD IMPORTANT MEETING TUESDAY

Next Tuesday evening there will be held a most important meeting of St. Cloud Lodge No. 66, I. O. O. F., and all members and visiting brethren are urged to attend. Work in degrees is to take place in addition to other important business matters.

The meeting last Tuesday was a very interesting session, and the members were pleasantly entertained by visiting brothers when the heading "good of the order" was reached. Some surprises in this line are promised for the meeting next Tuesday.

GET-TO-GETHER ROAD MEET HELD AT ORANGE CENTER

Saturday afternoon at Orange Center there was held a get-together meeting of good road boosters, in the interests of the road that will connect Kissimmee with the Orange County line near Orange Center and go on up to the Windermere road. Everybody was agreed to work as a unit to get both counties to put this road in fine shape at once, and in order to encourage the counties to do some actual roadbuilding the people of that section have volunteered to fix up the worst places on the road now used, so that travel can be continued until the counties act.

The people of that section are enthusiastic over the prospects of getting a good road all the way through and are ready to co-operate in any manner with both Osceola county and Orange County. The meeting Saturday was well attended.

The worst of our worries are over things that never happen.

ST. CLOUD IN MOVIES TO BE SHOWN ON FEBRUARY 8TH

Mrs. M. Puckett Foster, member of the advertising committee of the Chamber of Commerce, has just received the films of St. Cloud and the orange industry from beginning to end, which were made some time ago, and which have been on a tour of the country being shown in many cities. Arrangements have been made to have these pictures shown at the local theatre on Thursday evening of next week in addition to the regular pictures scheduled for that date. The Chamber of Commerce had promised our winter visitors an opportunity to see this picture during the season ,and the show next will be given before the pictures start on another tour of the northern states.

It will be interesting to both home folks and to the winter guests to see what was going on last summer while so many folks were away from home, and to those who are not familiar with the orange industry an opportunity will be afforded to see the fruit from the time it leaves the grove until it reaches he market. Few people know how much has to be done in harvesting a crop of fruit and getting it to the market in proper shape.

Everywhere that the pictures of St. Cloud were shown there has been general approval of the picture, and no doubt some of the winter guests now in the city had their first information of this city through seeing this picture at some northern theatre.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stockum, of Corning, N. Y., who have been spending the past three month in St. Cloud have gone over to the West Coast to visit for some time.

The next convention, in 1924, will be held in Miami.

The visitors report seventy-two delegates and hundreds of visitors at the meeting held in St. Petersburg and many matters of importance considered.

The delegation from the East Coast passed through St. Cloud on January 22nd on their way to the convention, and departed from St. Cloud last Sunday morning for the last lap of the journey home.

Mr. J. B. O'Hara is a well-known newspaper man of Lake Worth and has visited St. Cloud several times before.

MISS WILLIS ENTERTAINS IN HONOR SISTER-IN-LAW

Miss Cora Willis entertained at a six o'clock dinner on Wednesday in her new home at the corner of Penn. avenue and Eighth street, in honor of and to celebrate the birthday anniversary of her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. K. Willis, of Green Spring, Ohio, who with her husband, is spending the winter in St. Cloud.

During the afternoon the following guests called and the planned surprise was not surmised until all were invited to the dining room where the table was set for the entire party.

All did ample justice to the tempting repast of good things, and after a social evening, the following departed, wishing the honored guest many happy returns of the day.

Those present were: Mrs. Amanda Campbell, Wellington, O.; Mrs. Clara Suffin, Etsie, Mich.; Mr. Monroe Lee of Clyde, O.; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bretz from Green Spring, O.; Mrs. C. K. Willis, Mr. Willis, and Miss Willis, the hostess.

L. L. BAKER BUILDING A MODERN HOUSE

L. L. Baker is building a modern bungalow for C. Z. Lippincott at Fifth street and New York avenue. The new home will have city water, lights and is located on the paved road to the lake, with walks connecting with the city sidewalks around the house.

The bungalow is very attractive and will make somebody a comfortable home. Mr. Lippincott has been fortunate in having Mr. Baker as contractor, as he is known as one of the most thorough builders in the city. The work has gone forward rapidly and the place will be ready for occupancy in a short time. The place has been erected for sale to somebody who desires a modern home.

OFFICERS ELECTED FOR BANK OF ST. CLOUD

On Monday a meeting of the directors of the Bank of St. Cloud was held in the directors room and officers chosen for the ensuing term. The same officers were re-elected that have served during the past several years, as follows:

J. K. Conn, president; W. H. Tunnicliffe, Vice president; O. R. Bleech, Cashier; J. K. Conn, W. H. Tunnicliffe, G. A. Bleech, O. R. Bleech and W. E. Ely are the board of directors of the bank.

Reports that were made at the stockholders meeting showed the bank to be in a very prosperous condition.

FISH AND HUNTING CLUB IS ORGANIZED IN OSCEOLA CO.

In what was doubtless the best attended and most enthusiastic conference ever called in this county to discuss the question of game preservation, more than 100 citizens of Osceola county, met at Kissimmee on Jan. 27th, and organized the Osceola Fish and Hunting Club, with Judge T. L. Couser as its president. Another meeting is expected to be held in February 18, when co-operation and active affiliation of the Chamber of Commerce is expected. Fred C. Calkins, of Jacksonville, one of the foremost advocates of game preservation in Florida, was the principal speaker.

According to present plans the dedication of the new Veterans Memorial Library will take place on February 16th. Announcement of the program is expected to be published later.

KISSIMMEE BUSINESS COLLEGE OFFERS OPPORTUNITY TO YOUNG PEOPLE

In the Kissimmee Business College located on the second floor of the Merchants and Farmers Bank building in Kissimmee, the young people of Osceola county are afforded an opportunity to acquire a business education to fit them for the commercial life of the future. There is no need for the going away from home for that kind of instruction, as in this institution can be found training of the very best, and the cost is as reasonable as can be found anywhere. This makes the school more attractive to the young men and young women of the county, as they can stay at their own home and prepare themselves to enter office work or general business occupations.

Mrs. C. E. Hilton deserves much credit for the success of the school, as through her untiring efforts the school has succeeded where other attempts at maintaining a business college in Kissimmee have failed. Not discouraged at the small attendance the first few months the school management has kept the work going, and it is with the intention of realling to notice the opportunity offered our young people that we refer to the school at this time.

DELIGHTFUL PICNIC AT BRICK LAKE CANAL

A delightful picnic party enjoyed a trip and camp at Brick Lake Canal which runs south out of Alligator Lake to Brick Lake, on Saturday night of last week. Included in the party were: Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Bleech, Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Schofield and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Parker, Mr. Beverly Mann, Leslie Parker, Dudley Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McBeath and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Bleech, Mr. and Mrs. Edd George, and Mrs. Hershey.

CITY WINS IN RECENT INJUNCTION SUIT

On Tuesday of this week Judge C. O. Andrews, of Orlando, handed down a decision denying the injunction of W. H. Millsom of this city, in which he asked that the City of St. Cloud be restrained from enforcing the parking ordinance and that it be held as "unreasonable, arbitrary, discriminating and therefore void."

This is an ordinance passed by the city on the 8th day of January, 1923, prohibiting parking on the south side of Eleventh street along the post office and the half block running thereby from New York avenue to the alley east.

The Complainant, W. H. Millsom, by his attorneys, Pledger & Davis, filed their petition in the Circuit Court restraining the enforcement of the ordinance and attacking its validity. The matter was heard in Orlando on January 22. The city was represented by City Attorney L. M. Parker, of the firm of Parker & Parker. After the evidence was in, Attorneys Pledger & Davis asked time to file their brief in the matter. This required a reply brief on behalf of the city, which accounts for the few days delay in the decision.

The merits of the case went to the authority of the city to pass ordinances controlling and regulating traffic. The ruling of the court supports such power in the city even though private rights may seem to be somewhat infringed thereby. Courts and legislative bodies look well to the protection of property and safety of people. This street is only 26 feet wide from curb to curb, and it is only a matter of time until restrictive rules must control the entire length of this and other narrow streets. New York avenue is 32 feet from curb to curb, and parking on that street will have to regulated or there will be accident and damage against the city.

The ordinance was passed by the City Council after many requests from citizens to do something to relieve the congested condition at the post office. During the mail destribution period it has been very bad during the tourist season. This decision will prevent the occurance of accidents that might have happened there any time, had the restriction not been ordered by the city.

LIBRARY DEDICATION TO OCCUR FEBRUARY 16TH

BATH HOUSE AT LAKEFRONT AND OHIO TO BE FINISHED BY NEW OWNERS

Saturday Messrs. W. H. McIntosh and Capt. E. H. Tinker purchased the bathhouse at the lakefront and Ohio avenue, and on Monday started work to complete the buildings and make other extensive improvements to make available this valuable place of amusement to the people of the city.

These gentlemen also purchased of Mrs. Laura V. French the 100 foot lot just south of the boat house so that they have the waterfront secure for the amusement purposes to which they will put the bath house. The land between the street and the lake will be improved in order to make a playground for the children, and the place made generally attractive to visitors.

The bath house will be equipped for picnic parties and suits and other supplies for the comfort of the bathers will be ready for use.

Both of these gentlemen are property owners in the city, Mr. McIntosh have been here for some time, and Capt. Tinker having recently purchased the Marine home on New York avenue. It is their desire to do all they can to aid in making the city more attractive and they intend to make the bath house provide the attractions at the lakefront that are so badly needed at the present time.

First Picture of French Forces in Essen

It was exactly 1.45 P. M. when the French cavalry rode into Essen, if the clock of the railroad station at the left was correct. This exclusive picture is the first taken of the actual occupation of the German coal center by the French forces. Streets were crowded by Germans out to see the entrance of the invaders.

UNIVERSITY OF FLORIDA PLANS ERECTION OF BUILDINGS

The State University has been likened to a home consisting of bedroom and a dining room, but without a living room, according to a statement just issued by Dr. James M. Farr, of the University of Florida.

"Any survey of the physical equipment of the University of Florida" says Dr. Farr, "would reveal the fact that, for all phases of campus life, except one, somewhat adequate provision has been, or soon will be made. That one lacking phase is, however, of vital importance to the development of the student. While there is provision for the work of the institution in class rooms, libraries, laboratories and shops; while there are gymnasiums and athletic fields, there is absolutely no place on the campus where students may spend their moments of relaxation or congregate for social, extra-curriculum, or religious activities."

"You would hotly condemn the judgement of a parent who built a home in which to rear a large family of children if he provided a bedroom and dining room, but omitted in the [illegible] place where the family could congregate. If the children grew up spending their time of leisure on the street corners and in poolrooms or worse places, you would feel that the father was to blame. An almost analogous condition prevails at the University."

Dr. Farr believes that a building devoted to these needs would be an investment on the part of the good people of the state that they would repay them a thousand fold, as he says "There are now 1252 students, and in the course of a few years there will be over 2000 of the ablest young men of Florida on the campus.

They will be leaders in every line of activity in the state, their views and their ideals will be the moulding force that will determine the conduct of the coming generation. For their sake and for the sake of society, these young men should get the best in social and spiritual training along with their mental and bodily development. This can not be done unless a suitable place is provided on the campus. The need is extreme and all right-thinking and forward-looking citizens of the state will support a movement looking to the erection of this building for which the Faculty and Students of the University are praying."

COMING—FRIDAY FEB. 9 "THE CAT AND THE CANARY"

The one bright spot in the local theatrical season will be the engagement at the Casino Theatre, Kissimmee, of the international success, "The Cat and the Canary," which is announced for one night only on Friday, Feb. 9.

This remarkable play will be presented in Kissimmee with the same fine production that has enthralled New York and Chicago playgoers for months, and with a company of players that will match any playing organization put together for Broadway theatregoers. Heading the company is Robert Toms, who was drafted from the New York company for this tour. His capital playing of the leading role before Broadway audiences was an important contributing factor in the tremendous success of the play in New York.

"The Cat and the Canary" is a mystery play—a thriller. It is also a comedy of extraordinary charm. One New York reviewer wrote for his newspaper that this play "out batted 'The Bat'", in its mystifying qualities and that it was so funny he didn't know whether to laugh himself to death or just succumb from the thrills and chills that chased up and down his spine. In any event, no dramatic offering of the last generation has taken such a firm hold on playgoers and in order to satisfy the demand for the play companies are presenting it, not only in this country, where it is the reigning hit in New York and Chicago but also in London and in Australia.

As a mystery play, intended to keep an audience guessing as to its solution the story cannot be told, beyond the simple statement that its beautiful heroine is beset by many spooky and uncanny difficulties as she moves thru its three acts. In spite of its thrills and chills, "The Cat and the Canary" is splendidly humorous, in fact if it were not for its thrills it would still be a wonderful comedy. Among the players engaged by Kilbourn Gordon for this excellent company are Mr. Toms, already mentioned, Daily Taft, William Bonsill, Harriet Sterling, M. J. Briggs, Grace Donohue, Fisher, Jeanne Powers, Bedford Armitage, Harry E. Humphrey and Franklyn Fox. Adv.

RUTH BRYAN OWEN PLEASED GOOD AUDIENCE FRIDAY

The second number of the Alkahest lecture course given under the auspices of the Woman's Improvement Club, was held last Friday night in the G. A. R. Hall to Ruth Bryan Owen to a large and much pleased audience. Her charming personality and popular theme, Modern Arabian Knights, proved one of the season's treats. Those who failed to hear her missed one of the finest entertainments on the American platform. The few ladies who had the pleasure of meeting her socially in the afternoon were charmed with her simple and womanly manners.

After the lecture the ladies escorted her to see the new library building. She expressed her admiration and surprise at such an artistic, building, saying we had very much more for our money than Miami had in their library.

The next number of the course will be DeMarco Aistrup Entertainers, with Miss Elena De Maron, Harpist. The next date can not be given at this time but will be duly advertised.

JAMES S. BRACKEN

James S. Bracken suddenly passed away early Wednesday morning, Jan. 24th, at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Rankin, on Massachusetts avenue, where he and Mrs. Bracken had been living for some time.

He was born in Cambria County, Pa., about 80 years ago, and had been in failing health since Nov. 13th, when he was injured in an automobile accident caused by a boy's reckless driving.

He was 18 years of age when he enlisted, on Oct. 24th, 1861, for three years, in Co. C, 19th Regiment, U. S. Infantry. The regiment was assigned to the 14th Corps, Army of the Cumberland. He was wounded in the battle at Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 1st, 1864, and was confined to a hospital for some time and honorably discharged on October 30, 1864.

He went to Pittsburg and helped recruit a regiment and re-enlisted on Nov. 15, for three years or to the close of the war, in Co. F, 87th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, serving as orderly sergeant. In the battle of Petersburg, April 2, 1865, he was captured and taken before Gen. Lee who interrogated him. Comrade Bracken remained silent and the General with a wave of his hand said, "Take him away, he is every inch a soldier." He finally made his escape, and returned to his regiment. He was honorably discharged and mustered out at Washington, D. C., on June 20, 1865, and commissioned 1st lieutenant.

He was a member of the M. E. church at Latrobe, Pa., his former home; also member of the U. V. L. and G. A. R. Fisher Post at Johnstown, Pa. He missed much of the joy of life owing to severe deafness. He is survived by his second wife and four sisters of Dubois, Pa., and a brother, William, aged 80 years, living at Tacoma, Wash.

The three brothers of the family all enlisted in the army, and Capt. Nathan Bracken was killed in battle and his body never recovered.

Comrade Bracken was honorable in all his dealings, and always said he was ready to answer his final call, as he did his country's call. He has made his home in St. Cloud over 10 years. The funeral services were held Friday morning at the G. A. R. Hall, Mrs. M. P. Foster officiating, and buried at Mt. Peace Cemetery in charge of F... Isbein Bros.

SEN. NORRIS, ADVOCATE OF THE PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY HAS OLD NEIGHBOR HERE

In a recent issue of the Tribune we published an article from Senator G. W. Norris, of Nebraska, wherein he advocated a direct primary on selection of presidents, and we now learn that he was a neighbor of our esteemed citizen, H. F. Merwin, when they lived at Beaver City, Neb., some years ago.

Mr. Merwin is one of the old-timers as far as St. Cloud citizens go, having come here in the early days of the town's existence.

It was back in 1880 to 1886 that Mr. Merwin was a justice of the peace out in Beaver City, Neb., and the now Senator Norris often came before his court when handling law cases. Later Mr. Norris became the county attorney and then district judge, and is now making an able representative of his state as a member of the United States Senate.

Mr. Merwin agrees with Mr. Norris on his presidential primary voting idea, and remembers the days gone by when they were neighbors, with a great deal of pleasure. Mr. Merwin just a few days ago celebrated his eighty-fifth birthday, and when calling on the editor said he believed he could still "stick some type" like he did when he was a youngster.

MR. WIGGINTON DIES AT KENTUCKY HOME

Word was received Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Eiselstein that Mr. Albert Wigginton had passed away at four o'clock. Mr. Wigginton was a brother-in-law of the Eiselsteins and had spent a winter here two seasons ago. Early in the month Mr. Archie Wigginton and Leslie Wigginton, sons of the deceased, had been called to their home at Jeffersontown, Ky., on account of their father having suffered a stroke of paralysis. He grew continually worse until the end Sunday.

Mrs. Wigginton is reported in a critical condition, having been afflicted with heart trouble for some time, and recently contracted influenza.

No announcement was received of the funeral arrangements. Mr. Wigginton was about 42 years old, and was one of the successful business men and farmers in that part of Kentucky. He made many friends here during his short stay, who will regret to learn of his death, but who extend to the bereaved family their heartfelt sympathy in their great loss.

WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENT OF GROVE PROPERTY AND RESIDENT LOTS GOING FORWARD ON PROPERTY OF THE PERFECTION ORANGE COMPANY, INCORPORATED

(This article has been written after a personal inspection of the holdings of the Perfection Orange Company, an incorporated company whose development work is so near Osceola County that this county will become the trading center for the developers.)

Taking the company at their word, "Personal Inspection Invited," the editor of the Tribune visited the holdings of the corporation last week to personally see what was being done, and what was in store for future development, according to the plans that have been outlined by this concern.

Going from Kissimmee through the Shingle Creek section, the lands of the Perfection Orange Company are reached a few miles over the line in Orange county, on a route that will be connected with a good road to Kissimmee as soon as the plans of Orange county road builders are carried out this year. In fact only three miles from "Silver Point," as the townsite will be known on the company holdings, the road connects with the Windermere road, in Orange county, which is one of the finest hardsurfaced roads in the state. The location is also on the Kissimmee-Apopka-Orlando lines of the Atlantic Coast Line railroad, providing transportation to and from the development and furnishing "Silver Point" with daily passenger trains.

Lakeside Locations

The holdings of the company comprise some two thousand acres located on the shores of nine beautiful lakes, which afford the most ideal locations for homesites that has been offered the public in this section for some time. The lands are high, rolling hills, much like the famous ridge section of Polk county, and the soil is identical with that where the largest groves in the state have been developed so successfully during the last half century. In fact there is already a bearing orange grove on the shores of Lake Eureka, one of the largest in the group of lakes surrounding the lands. The water level of the lakes is from 95 to 110 feet above the sea level, with abrupt rises in the land from the lake shores, so that the homesites compare with those around Lucerne Circle at Orlando and other small lakes in that city. There five miles of lakefront platted for building sites, being located on Lakes Eureka, Isobel, Serene, Arthur, Everett, Dot, Fish Lake, Spring Lake and Lake Babette.

Twenty-five acres of the land is in bearing grove, and all over the 2,000 acres a large force of workmen is rapidly clearing the scrub oak and what few pines are left, preparing the land for various crops that will be planted this spring and for setting out additional acreage in groves. This work is being done thoroughly, and along the same lines that the largest groves in the state have been developed in the past, which convinces us that this concern has started their development work along the right lines.

Planting of one hundred acres in watermelons started this week, and thirty acres is being put in sweet potatoes, so that additional income will be had from the land while the grove development progresses. Seeing what Mr. Nave, the president of the company, has accomplished in the truck farm line at Kissimmee during the past year, gives weight to his statement that truck crops will follow closely on the clearing of the lands in the holdings of the Perfection Orange Company at Silver Point.

I have traveled all over Florida during the past twelve ears, and have observed all kinds of development propositions started, some completely successful and others that did not get beyond the promotion stage. I have ceased to wonder at some shrewd man or group of men locating a choice piece of land and putting their own money into the first real development before offering any interests to the general public because it has been my experience that when people have faith enough to put their own money into a Florida development, such as the Perfection Orange Company people are doing so extensively, that it succeeds from the beginning.

As a rule when land is sold from a map, with no development made, buyers rarely make such proposed development a success. But on the other hand, when land is cleared property, set out in groves and then utilized for other crops while the grove is coming into bearing, the buyers have something back of their investment.

The Perfection Orange Company will have 1,000 acres of grove when their plans are complete, but the officers are not waiting for this grove to come into bearing, but are even now utilizing the cleared lands for farm crops. With a railroad right through the property there is no worry about getting to market, while if desired the products can be trucked to Kissimmee, Orlando or Apopka for local use. There are several other successful orange groves adjoining the Perfection Orange Company lands that have been money makers for their owners, which backs up the claims of the new company for their proposition, and offers anyone who desires to make a personal inspection an opportunity to see for himself what has been done in that locality and what can be done in a larger scale.

Officers of the Company

Another good feature of this development proposition under way by the Perfection Orange Company at Silver Point, is the fact that practically ever since one of the officials are residents of Osceola County and are personally known to our people.

F. A. Nave, president of the company, has proven his ability as a developer since his arrival in this county some time ago to take up his residence, and has made his work show his predictions. Mr. Nave, while not a native of Florida, comes with high recommendations as a developer from his native state. Associated with him is C. W. Nave, Manager of the Atlantic Refinery Co., of Brazil, South America, and G. V. Nave, secretary of the Company, of Kissimmee; Hon. T. L. Comer, county judge of Osceola County; H. S. Makinson, of Makinson Hardware Co., Kissimmee; W. J. Steed, Attorney at law, Kissimmee; S. B. Aultman, Kissimmee; Alexander Akerman, Attorney, formerly of Kissimmee but now of Orlando. These gentlemen need no introduction to the most of our people, as they have been associated with the business life of the county for several years. That they have put their own money into the work shows their faith in the future of Silver Point and the Perfection Orange Company.

With careful management assured, and actual development already made, the work now going forward rapidly will soon make of the Perfection Orange Company holdings and Silver Point townsite, one of the most attractive propositions and pleasant locations for a home in the state.

Roads lead to Silver Point from all important points in Orange county and from Kissimmee, being on the highway that will soon connect the Windermere road with Longwood by going through Osceola County.

With their own nursery for producing the Perfection Seedless Orange already growing on their land, the company is assured of a supply of high grade trees at a low cost, so that the increasing of the grove acreage is already on a solid basis.

In the townsite laid out, the company will build substantial stucco hollow-tile business houses as soon as the land is ready, and will provide the hotel and public buildings that are needed first to care for those who come to locate on the homesites that are laid out in such ideal locations on the lake fronts.

The development work of the Perfection Orange Company is setting a good example for what could be done by several landowners in the St. Cloud section, for the reason that there are several good tracts of land that we know of that only lacks men with the money and a vision of the future to start even greater development than has ever yet been accomplished in this section. The fact that this company will make Kissimmee their trading point will naturally bring benefits to this county, although their property is over the line in Orange county. They should be given every cooperation consistent with good business in encouraging their development at Silver Point.

Anything that adds to the wealth of any part of Florida deserves the encouragement of every good citizen of the state. And this company has under way one of the finest grove developments in the state.

Mr. Harding As A Pension Watchdog"

(Literary Digest)

Righteous, sound, proper, wise, courageous, and well-advised. These are some of the adjectives used by such well-known Republican, Democratic, and independent newspapers as the Philadelphia Public Ledger, Springfield Republican, New York Tribune, Cleveland Plain Dealer, Providence Journal and Baltimore American in commenting upon President Harding's veto of the Bursum pension bill. This bill would have raised Civil and Mexican War veterans' pensions from $50 to $75 a month, and their widows' pensions from $30 to $50, at the same time providing for veterans of our Indian wars and their widows, as well as nurses who saw active service during the Civil War—at a cost estimated by the commissioner of Pensions of $108,000,000 annually. Civil War veterans and their widows, statistics show, are dying off at the rate of a hundred a day, and few veterans can hope to live more than another ten years or at the most twenty years, yet the Baltimore Evening Sun thinks the Bursum bill is "the rawest pension bill ever offered a President for signature, and the fact that President Harding vetoed it shows that he is 'on est of backbone.'"

Under the present law the widow of a Civil War veteran may draw a pension if she married him prior to 1905. Senator Bursum would have this date advanced to 1915, for "thousands of widows who married veterans subsequent to 1905 have had their Congressman or Senator put through private pension bills for them, he charges and these women are now on the pension roll. Little additional expense, therefore, would be involved by extending the marriage period to 1915, argues the senator from New Mexico. Nevertheless, maintains the Columbus (O.) Dispatch, "the President found so many objectionable features in the measure that he sent it back with his veto clearly explained." Said Mr. Harding in his message:

"The Act makes no pretense of new considerations for the needy or dependent, no new generosity for the veteran wards of the nation; it is an outright bestowal upon the Government's pension rolls, with a heedlessness for the Government's financial problems which is a discouragement to every effort to reduce expenditures, and to thereby relieve the Federal burdens of taxation.

"The more particular objection to this Act, however, lies in its loose provisions for pensioning widows."

"The President's argument is unanswerable," thinks the Indianapolis News. "The worst thing about the Bursum measure," agrees the New York Tribune and the Newark News, is, in the words of the latter paper, that "it sets up a vicious precedent for veterans of the World War." "A line must be drawn somewhere," observes the Philadelphia Public Ledger, and the Troy Times notes that "with the largest debt this country has ever had the interest of which amounts to hundreds of millions annually, there is no money to be wasted in carrying out a mistaken idea of government philanthropy."

But the editor of the National Tribune (Washington, D. C.), organ of the Grand Army of the Republic, takes advantage of this opening to remind us that the country owes its present position among world Powers to the men who helped to preserve the Union in the 'sixties. And the Boston Globe finds that thousands of new pension claims are being filed by veterans who heretofore "have struggled along until fading strength and a rising cost of living compelled them to appeal to the Government or go to a public institution." Said Senator Bursum recently of the President's veto:

"This is a harsh message when we consider the physical condition of these veterans, their services to the Nation, the suffering they endured and the sacrifices they made, their advanced age, and the miserable existence which their aged widows are eking out . . . . Not a word do you find of comfort, not an expression of appreciation for those who gave up everything in order that this country might live.

"As for the cost, which would constantly diminish, I am su:e it would not be $108,000,000, even for the first year."

In reply to a telegram asking for the veterans' side of the question, the National Tribune, which has carried on the fight for pensions, replies in part:

"All of these Civil War Veterans are now reaching, if they have not long passed, the Scriptural three-score years and ten. They are therefore long past the earning period of their lives and must depend upon their pensions for the absolute necessities if not comforts of life. They have given all that life had for them to their country. That country is now the richest in the world. Such riches are the direct fruit of the sacrifices of these men and women in saving the country from absolute destruction. This country has never failed to recognize its duty to its defenders. No nation that claims to be civilized could do otherwise. The amount required by the vetoed bill to provide ordinary necessities for men and women in the few years that remain is after all trifling in comparison with the hundreds of millions lavished from the Treasury in so many directions. The burden upon the Treasury will be as short-lived as the existence of the pensioners, whose average expectation of life is measured by so short a span as five years."

United States pension statistics for five decades, beginning in 1878, show that between 1878 and 1898 the total number of pensioners increased from 223,998 to 993,714. Since then, however, the number has steadily declined. In the table shown below, from 1878 to the end of 1922, the column "Veterans on roll" includes some dependent children and a few Civil War nurses:

Year (Fiscal)	Veterans on Roll	Widows on Roll	Total on Pen. Roll	Total Disbursements for Pensions
1878	131,649	92,349	223,998	$28,786,000.14
1888	343,701	108,856	452,557	78,950,501.67

The Universalist Belief

By REV. W. WESTOVER

The Universalist belief might appeal to some. There are those who do not care to live Christian lives. They do not want to take the trouble. It is easier to drift in the ways of the world than to abstain from worldly habits and sin. Some men can swear as easily as they can talk. Some can lie without any trouble, and so on through the ten commandments. Christ came to save all mankind if they want to be saved, but if they do not want to be saved he will not compel them to do what is lawful and right.

When we die we all go to places of departed spirits, to hades; the good, the bad and the indifferent, and there await the great judgment day to be judged of the things done in the body as Christ is to come again in great power and glory to judge the living and the dead. They that have done righteously shall enter into life everlasting. They that have done evil into a life of condemnation.

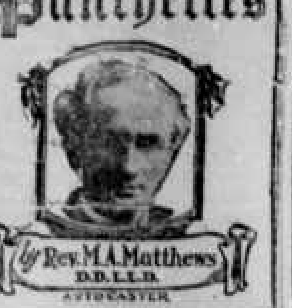

As God condemns evil men on earth if they will not amend, and as he will condemn evil spirits in the place of departed spirits if they will not endeavor to purify their spirits from evil, so will he award them according to their manner of living.

This life is a life of progress either for good or for evil. God has made the world to progress either one way or another. We cannot be in a state of stagnation. Those who have persisted in living in sin in this life as well as they may be expected to do in the spirit life of hades, would not want to live in a world where all is pure and holy. They would not be in their element. They would want to be in that life they have formed for themselves. The evil do not appreciate the good sufficiently enough to follow it in this life and so they would not appreciate the good in the life to come.

It is their own fault that they do not obey the God of light and truth as they have free will; so, it is no wonder God would say to them, "Depart from me ye workers of iniquity. You have lived a life without me, so continue so. You have had free will to save your life if you had wanted to, but you have not endeavored to, so therefore, expect to receive the wages of your sins. 'The wages of sin is death.' By your self-will and disregard of warning you have forfeited the eternal light and presence of God and the pleasures of heaven."

It would not be reasonable to expect the happiness of heaven if we did not work and live for it, and as so many do not seem to work and live for the spiritual safety and good of their lives, the idea of universal salvation does not seem to be true and agreeable to Scripture and reason.

DEBAUCHERY PREVENTABLE

SOMEONE has said that the mother of debauchery is not joy, but joylessness.

If that is true, then you have a reason for the debauchery that has soaked the world in blood and death.

There is no joy in sordid materialism.

There is no joy in extreme selfishness.

There is no joy in loose passion, greed, and gluttony.

There is no joy in materialism, murder, war, disaster.

The real joy that feeds the soul is the joy that comes from the spiritual things and from the spiritual conception of things, and, from participation in the spiritual things of life.

Therefore, if materialism has produced debauchery, if the joyless life has resulted in the drunken debauch to drown the monotony and to awaken the sleeping cords of happiness, then let the people understand that they can come away from that deadly monotony.

He who eats of the material food will hunger. He who eats of that Bread which cannot be provided by the world never hungers, and he is never cursed with a joyless moment or with a dull, monotonous hour.

He has happiness that cannot be purchased, and he has pleasure continuously.

The debauchery of life can be prevented by the spiritual power and food that come with the salvation furnished by Christ.

YOUR MOODS

How often do your moods change? And what makes them change? The liver and digestive system have a lot to do with it. Many a day's happiness is ruined by a morsel of food.

The chief reason folks talk so much about the weather is, not because the weather helps or interferes with their plans, but because it is so powerful at governing their moods.

Difficult to explain how the weather can affect the mind or "spirits"—unless you concede, with Coue, that we are slaves of our imaginations.

Under a certain set of circumstances, you find yourself happy and carefree, provided the weather is bright and sunny. Under identically the same circumstances, when it's raining or the sky leaden and overcast, most of us are gloomy, languid and make mountains out of molehills.

Writers of stage melodrama follow this psychology. Trouble, sadness and forebodings are unfolded before a background of mournful winds and viciously swirling rain.

The last act, the happy ending, usually take place with the sun shining and everybody full of pep and joy except the villain.

Our endocrine glands—particularly the thyroid and adrenals—also have powerful control over our emotions or moods. These little bodies, by excessive or deficient secretion of chemicals can make the glands' unfortunate owner melancholy almost to the point of insanity, terrified into near hysteria, or as exhilarated as if the glands were secreting essence of John Barleycorn.

People with violent emotions often are merely the victims of diseased glands.

After all, what a wonderful thing it is, that our moods change so abruptly and completely. A happy life is a life of contrasts, with joy and displeasure balancing or off-setting each other.

Take a youngster with an appetite for candy that seemingly cannot be satisfied. Put him to work in a candy store. Come back in a year and you'll find him more interested in bread and butter than in candy. With an unlimited supply of sweets before him, he has no contrast such as he had when sweets were a luxury. The contrast absent, he loses interest.

Joy ceases to be joy when it is a constant diet. Occasional troubles and disappointments make joy stand out as a desirable contrast. So we appreciate happiness when we have it.

Too happiness is a poison. In downcast moments we sit back, take stock of ourselves, analyze our condition, make new resolutions—in general, maintain our perspective of life.

If we don't fall off the horse now and then, we'd soon become so confident and arrogant about our riding ability that it'd be next to impossible for any one to live with us.

To understand your moods and to keep them from downing you, remember we are slaves to the law of contrasts, with a change always inevitable later.

Jig Saw Puzzles

Richard Lloyd Jones Says—Speeding May Be Stopped

The "Safety First" movement has done much to lessen danger everywhere except on our streets and country roads. There the auto toll still climbs. The Safety First movement has always been to make it safe for the auto rather than the pedestrian. We say "Don't jay-walk," but never "Don't jay-drive."

There are 10,000,000 automobiles in the United States. There are hundreds of legislators who are going to introduce in the forty-three legislatures now in session or about to convene laws that will move the Safety First movement out onto the street.

In their own interest the auto manufacturers, dealers and clubs should line up with the legislative advocates of Safety First,—yet in too many instances they stupidly stand the ground to resist any safety-first legislation.

For instance, the Chicago Motor Club puts out comparative propaganda which, among other fool declarations, says, "There were 10,067 deaths in 1920 from influenza, and only 10,168 from auto vehicles." Can you beat that! Mere trifle.

Railroads won't allow a man in the locomotive cab who even drinks, let alone gets drunk.

The drunkard drives the auto. Honest lawyers assert that it is difficult to convict the driver who crushes or kills because "He didn't mean to,"—you can't establish the "intent to kill."

Among the many remedies proposed are three that are particularly practical and behind which there are many supporters.

The street car doesn't carry a bumper; it carries a basket for you or me to fall in if the motorman hits us without criminal intent. Unless jay-driving is promptly stopped—unless every jay-driver is promptly jerked out of his seat and not allowed to return to the wheel, we are all going to be compelled to take our bumpers off and put on baskets.

The second practical remedy provides for safety in our cities. Did you ever notice how all autos slow down before a two-inch plank that is laid across the road to protect a hose or pipe? They slow down to spare the springs on the auto. But they don't all slow down to spare the spinal column of the pedestrian. Well,—it is proposed to ridge every walk across street intersections with stones set two inches above the pavement. Then we will have some careful driving.

And lastly it is proposed to make every speedometer town-clock size, compel every car to be equipped with one, and put it on the back. There will be no room for it on the dash board. It will be the diameter of your tire. Then everybody will be able to read your speed.

And all this is no laughing matter. These legislators from Oregon to Florida, from Maine to California are in dead earnest. A people tired of jelly-boned judges, tired of amateur engineers, tired of drunken drivers, and the hurry-up fellows on the road, are going after safety first on the road.

The automobile is one of civilization's best blessings, but we do not welcome it to see which can win the death-toll race,—it or influenza.

Poem by UNCLE JOHN

FOR THE UNDER DOG

The richest trait of any soul, in dividends at trifling cost, is when the man that wins control is tender toward the man that lost. . . . I hate the beast that rends again the valiant, though the vanquished form.—The man who joys in giving pain,—who keeps the fires of malice warm. . . . In this old world of give and take, we know the fittest may survive,—we may surpass, but should not break, the heart that fain would stay alive. . . . We've passed the age of tooth and claw when Cave-man tactics slew the meek,—we now obey the higher law, by which the strong upholds the weak. . . .

The Egot's transient badge of power may only last him for a day, and Justice holds the coming hour, when he, like chaff, shall blow away. The man who conquers in the game may honors reap, and love enjoy,—but MEN abhor the act of shame, when hellish instinct would destroy! Well may the powerful hand beware, if hatred lures to heinous crime.—For he who sits in kingly chair may howl for mercy in this time. . . . "That which men sow, they also reap" is true in State, in Heart, in Mind; Let us be mindful what we keep, in words that wound or ties that bind.

HOMEY PHILOSOPHY For 1923

Business is bad. Isn't that good. Father is busted. Great news. Willie has the measles. Smile, mother, smile. Try to get him well, of course, but smile. When clouds are dark, when the bank roll's gone, when wolfish landlords press for rent and there's not a cent to meet it, when all the world seems sad an' weary smile as you never smiled before, for there's joy right in your lap. Be not the hypocrite. Christ was crucified. Let us not pose as Christians if we welsh at carryin' the cross an' dodge the burden every time it seems to come our way. If we all take a hand at the burden the load will be very light, an' the road leads to human love an' happiness.

Tell the truth at all times, is good advice. But telling it to the right person is wisdom.

THE BIGGEST THING IN CENTRAL SOUTH FLORIDA THIS YEAR IS THE

Sub-Tropical Mid-Winter Fair

All Roads Lead to Orlando

For fourteen consecutive years it has been growing. It has cost money, time and prodigious effort to build the most artistic exposition in the state. It is not a mushroom growth but actually requires the constant labor of the whole year to bring it to perfection. You have your part in it.

You can help make it hum. Arrangements have seen made to show the best of products, citrus, garden, field, manufacture, home demonstration, health, stock, poultry, art, needlecraft, etc.

Johnnie J. Jones' Shows have a part. So have the Ferris Wheel Girls. Joe Killjoy will frolic and the Earle Sisters will perform. The Dellamead Troupe of girls are said to be the finest posers in the country. Sixty race horses now practicing. Kennel Club dog show. This is your fair. Help to make it yours. Bring something to it. Come yourself. Bring your family.

A correction:—Somehow, while trying to correct an error in one line, one of the Tribune printers last week put the new line in the wrong place in the article by J. P. Blood on "What We Should Eat." It spoiled the whole paragraph referring to Proteids. The paragraph should have read: "The principal proteids are lean meats, fish, fowl, white of eggs, dried beans, peas and nuts." The "lean meats, fish, fowl, whites of eggs," wording was left out last week.

Business

There are comparatively few people who realize the magnitude of the citrus industry and the possibility of other productions in the State of Florida.

It was estimated that last year there was paid to Florida Citrus Growers at least $30,000,000. This land of the Perfection Orange Company is located in the midst of one of the best and largest citrus communities in the world—Orange County's last year's crop of citrus fruit brought the growers nearly $7,000,000 or approximately one-fourth of the total amount paid growers in the entire State. With such a record as this, it is little wonder that this industry is regarded as one of the soundest and most substantial business interests, both from the standpoint of investment, safety and operating profits.

The Perfection Orange Company's plan is different—distinctly different—from any other development in Florida or elsewhere. This possibly is because the thought and motive back of the enterprise is to build and develop the new city of Silver Point, also develop and place on a productive basis citrus groves, vineyards, general fruit, melon and vegetable growing and do a general nursery business.

Properties

The Perfection Orange Company, Inc., have 2,000 acres of the admitted by experts of the best citrus land in the State of Florida, independent appraisals place the valuation of the property at $235,000.00 in its present state. When developed this property will have a valuation of from $500 to $1,000 per acre or over $1,000,000, the Perfection Nursery have over 40,000 budded trees with a value of $80,000, and 25 acres Perfection Orange Trees now bearing.

The Company owns and controls all licenses, rights and privileges for the production and sale of the New Perfection Seedless Orange tree. It controls likewise the sale of New Perfection Oranges.

The superior merit of the NEW PERFECTION SEEDLESS ORANGE is conceded by those who have investigated it as being the only seedless orange in the State of Florida, and will find a ready market at a price far in excess of that obtainable for other varieties. To grow the New Perfection Seedless Oranges and market them under the "New Perfection Seedless Orange Brand," the grower must secure his trees from the Perfection Orange Company, Inc.

The sale of 20,000 trees yearly will pay the stockholders over 50 per cent on the entire capitalization.

Stability of Nursery Industry

The importance of the nursery, plant and seed industry of which we will be a substantial part, as well as its stability, compares favorably with, if indeed it does not surpass, that of the most important industries of the world, such as the raising of live stock; of cotton and wool; oil producing; mining of coal, gold and silver; manufacturing iron and steel; constructing automobiles; building railroads and steamship lines; and many smaller, but equally important, industries required for the protection, sustenance and comfort of the people of the world. Without the efforts and accomplishments of the nurseryman, the very first essentials of life would be literally cut off.

Never a Crop Failure in the Industry

It is a significant fact that a crop failure in the citrus industry has never been known. Acre for acre of citrus fruit growing is one of the most profitable lines of agricultural of horticultural endeavor. Of course, there will be fat years and lean years but we offset the lean years by our vineyards, general fruit, melon and vegetable growing the Perfection Orange Company, Inc., will do business every month in the year.

Home Sites

THE PERFECTION ORANGE COMPANY, INC., will build and develop the new city of Silver Point. This development calls for the laying out of one of the most perfect golf courses in the entire State of Florida; the building of some of the handsomest winter homes to be found; public buildings and parks, affording the resident the pleasures, comforts and conveniences of the modern city of today.

Fishing

Our own lakes—over five miles of lake front now fully stocked with fish—will be the mecca for our lot owners and stockholders.

Beach

Over five miles of lake front with the finest lake beach in the State of Florida, will afford unsurpassed bathing during the entire year.

Prospective Profits

The fact that the corporation has secured two thousand acres of the admitted best citrus land in the State of Florida, located in Orange County, on which to locate its city of Silver Point, and develop its groves, assures the success of the enterprise. This tract of land is protected by a number of lakes, making it an ideal location for the establishment of orange groves, vineyards, and melon fields.

It is the intention of the Officers and Directors of the corporation to work the proposition on a production basis, and will strive to make every acre of land produce all the fruit, melons, and vegetables that it is humanly possible to make the land produce. This not only insures the residents of Silver Point their ample supply, yet at the same time furnishes a constant stream of shipments to Northern and Eastern markets.

The Orlando-Apopka line of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad passes through the property, and a railway station has been arranged for, thus assuring quick transportation for both fruits and vegetables. State of Indiana
EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT
Indianapolis

September twenty sixth
Nineteen twenty-two

Warren T. McCray
Governor

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

I have been well acquainted with Mr. Frank A. Nave of Kissimmee, Florida, for a number of years, and up to the time of his leaving Indiana for his new home in Florida, Mr. Nave was one of the most ambitious and energetic men that it has ever been my pleasure to know.

He developed and operated one of the largest farms in Indiana and has but few superiors as a farmer. He was also a breeder and exhibitor of choice Hereford cattle, and won many championship ribbons in the leading State fairs from New York to the Missouri River. He was also an importer of cattle, and his importations were among the best that were ever brought to this continent.

He is a man of unusual visions, highest integrity and his moral character is without reproach. I believe he is worthy of the confidence of the people where he resides and you are fortunate in having such a citizen to help develop your country.

He has raised a highclass family. His oldest son is a graduate of St. John's Military Academy, a graduate of Wisconsin University, and an Ensign of the great war, and today is holding a responsible position with the Standard Oil Company in South America. His second son is a graduate of St. John's Military Academy, a student of Dartmouth College, New Haven and a young man of strong character and business ability. His third son is a student in Leland Stanford University. He has two younger sons with him at present. His wife is a christian lady and a woman of the highest type.

I feel sure any business entrusted to Mr. Nave will have his careful attention.

Very truly yours,
WARREN T. McCRAY.

JUST WHAT YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

Do you know what this year will bring?
Future's book that's hidden from view,
Has coming events this year of your life
Indelibly marked for you.
Does your heart desire to see them now
The dark, as well as the fair?
What would you willingly give to know
All that is written there?

Do your heart-hopes all seem dying fast,
And much doubting come over your soul,
Because of the writing you cannot see
On future's mysterious scroll?
For a clearer view of things unseen,
Or to know the things unknown—
What would you be willing to grant
To make this knowledge your own?

Or, what would you gladly give to know
The World's verdict of your year's life?
Or to know what the days of the present year
Will give you of peace or strife?
Will the coming hours bring ease or pain?
Will they cause you joy, or woe?
What will the year add unto your life?
What would you give to know?

Will fear make you dread the coming of night,
Or, the light of another day?
Will the shadows all deepen as you go on,
Or darkness all pass away?
Will you gain in health, be rich or poor?
Will you be high, or low?
Will life go on when this year is done?
What would you give to know?

But the FATHER knows, and has offered to all
The way of eternal peace
If you take that way you will never fear
And all of your doubtings will cease;
You'll see enough for a step at a time—
CHRIST with you as you go;
And knowing that HE will guide you right
Is enough for you to know.

OBITUARY

MARY JOSEPHINE BILLINGS

After two years of suffering, by not being able to lie down to sleep, Mary J. Billings passed to her eternal rest on Tuesday evening, January 23rd, at her home, 115 South Florida avenue.

Funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church, Rev. Calhoun, pastor, officiating and Eiseistein Bros., in charge of arrangements. The remains were sent to Medina, O., on Friday evening, reaching their destination Monday morning. Her old friend and neighbor, Mr. Jay Sargent was in attendance and her old pastor, Rev. Samuel H. Fritsch, officiating at the services Wednesday afternoon. Interment was made at Spring Grove Cemetery and laid beside her husband.

Mary J. Billings was born in Billings, Ind., July 18, 1849, and as a child moving with her parents to Oxford, O. After finishing school, she became proficient in piano music under Prof. Merz, and also in drawing under Prof. Bogereau, at the Oxford Female College.

Her strong alto voice was sought for many a choir.

Becoming a member of the First Presbyterian church in her teens she continued to live a Christian life until her death. She married in George Dwight Billings, a dentist of great repute, and also a musician, ably handling the violin, and who passed away after three days illness on October 6th, 1909.

Her many little deeds of kindness and her cheerful "be good to yourself" seemed to eliminate for the time being her uncomfortable situation.

Taking God into her daily life, and rejoicing in every one's good fortune, abhoring evil and petty dealings, she was ready to meet her Master.

One child was born to this union, Susie Marybell, who lives in St. Cloud.

Card of Thanks

May all those who have helped to lighten my burden, by deed, word, hand-clasp, flowers or letter, or in any other way, especially Dr. Dodds and family, and Mr. W. H. Taylor, be surrounded by God's richest blessings, and secure "the peace which passeth understanding." Please accept my thanks and appreciation, which are of the deepest sincerity.

SUSIE M. BILLINGS.
